WILL ASK FOR HER SHARE.

The Elko Free Press remarks: Considerable interest is already being manifested at this early day in the coming political campaign for State officers and National representatives. The personnel of the State ticket is every now and then incidentally referred to by the press, and in a quiet way by the people as to the merits and demerits of those who have been mentioned with the several offices to be filled we recognize a number of old-timers, whose ability and experience will doubtless commend them to the favorable consideration of the next Republican State Convention.

The total number of State offices to be filled, including one United States Senator and one Congressman, outside of the State Legislature, is nineteen; of which eighteen are to be elected by the people, and one by the Legislature.

There are fourteen organized counties in the State, of which number Washoe, Elko and Storey are the three most important in point of population and taxable property. While the claims of Storey and Washoe, and in fact many of the smaller counties, have been fully recognized by important positions on the State ticket, Elko county seems to have been entirely overlooked. For illustration, Lincoln county, with its insignificant tax list and meagre vote, has had a place upon the State ticket for the last twelve years. The same is true of White Pine, whose claims have been recognized by having two positions for a similar period. Storey county has always had a United States Senator, with other important positions upon the ticket. Ormsby county has now a United States Senator and Congressman, besides State Treasurer and one Regent. And so you may go through the entire list of counties.

Besides these facts all the patronage of the Federal Government by the way of public institutions and officers for the same seem to be selected from the west and of State, within a stone's throw of the dividing line between California and Nevada. Also all of the State institutions.

In view of the above facts the Republican delegation from Elko county to the next State Convention will demand as a matter of justice, a more pronounced recognition upon the State ticket. Elko will claim two prominent positions upon the ticket.

Heretofore the county has, in a political sense, only been recognized as an outside province of the State of Nevada, useful for taxable purposes only. The county of Elko was duly organized under an Act of the Legislature, March 5, 1869, and the first election was held in June, 1869, at which time she took her place among the sister counties of the State—in round numbers, a period of 21 years, during which time she has only been honored by four nominations on the State ticket, the first being L. Wines, State Treasurer in 1870. The next nomination was L. I. Hogle for the same office at a later period. Both of these gentlemen were defeated. The only representative we have had at the State Capital was Judge Earl, who was elected to fill an unexpired term for Supreme Judge, in place of John Garber, of Lincoln county, resigned. Three years ago Judge Bigelow was elected as one of the District Judges. This is the grand total in 21 years.

During the above mentioned period of 21 years this county has paid sums into the State Treasury varying from $38,000 to $41,000 per annum, aggregating over $800,000.

Elko will this year ask for her share.

SILVER.

The San Francisco Call remarks: The silver outlook is good. The prospects are that the Senate bill requiring the coinage of $4,500,000 worth of silver a month will become a law. This is the simplest and most effective way of restoring the double standard in fact as well as in theory. The Eastern gold men are giving away to the force of public opinion. Predictions of evil results to arise from this increase in the silver coinage are not so numerous nor so positive as were heard when the bill to coin $2,000,000 was passed. In fact the failure of gold advocates to estimate with an approach to accuracy the effect of the Silver Coinage Act has greatly impaired their prestige. It has been found that financiers by profession and occupation do not know more about finance than other people. The Harrison administration is doing pretty well. Its recent action in the matter of Chinese in transit indicates that it will keep its pledges to the people on that question, and now the practical indorsement of the Senate Silver bill settles the standing of the Administration on the silver question.

A WEDDING DRESS.

It will be worn by Miss Fair. M. Arnaud, of Paris, has completed and sent to San Francisco the wedding dress of Miss Fair, who is to be married in June, to Herman Oschicks. The dress is of white satin, manufactured at Lyons especially for Miss Fair. It is covered with rare Alencon and Argenton lace, which was purchased by piece from lace collectors and curiosity shops, and which is not manufactured at all now.

The train was three yards and a half long, covered with lace, ala Louis XVI. A drapery of lace trims the bottom of the front of the skirt, held by bunches of orange blossoms. The sleeves are of satin, covered with lace, and the neck is finished by a high Medici collar of lace.

The veil is of white tulle, to be fastened by a spray of orange blossoms. The cost of this dainty wedding dress was 25,000 francs. The insurance over the Atlantic was 15,000 francs, and the duty to the United States nearly 8,000 francs. A sketch of the dress appears in the Paris Herald.

The Lumber Business.

The Truckee Republican says there is every indication of a big and profitable season in the lumber camps of the Sierras this Summer. Already the lumber yards are about cleared out. Salt Lake City alone will want millions on millions of feet of building lumber.

Secretary of State Dormer was in town yesterday.

The World's Fair Bill.

Special to the JOURNAL. WASHINGTON, April 21.—The Senate took up the House World's Fair bill. The only amendment reported by the Senate Committee is the insertion of a new section providing for a naval review in New York harbor in April, 1893, and the unveiling of a statue of Columbus at Washington.

Vest spoke at length in opposition to the bill.

Blair moved to add to the first section a provision that no intoxicating liquors, wines or beer, shall be sold, to be used as a beverage, within the limits of the Exposition grounds. The motion to lay the amendment on the table was agreed to. The Committee of the Whole then reported the bill to the Senate. The vote on the naval review amendment resulted yes 27, no 25, so that provision remains in the bill. The bill then passed, 43 to 14, the negatives being Barbour, Berry, Blackburn, Cockrell, Coke, George, Hampton, Morgan, Pugh, Reagan, Vance, Vest and Walthall. A Committee of Conference on disagreeing votes was appointed.

Adjourned.

An Accounting Ordered.

Special to the JOURNAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—Judge Hoge today, in rendering a decision in the suit of Henry Phillips, et al, against Dominick Tarpey, said it was clear that the co-partnership which Tarpey denied did actually exist between the parties for the purpose of acquiring and dealing in railroad lands for mutual benefit, and that under such co-partnership they had entered into a contract with the Central Pacific Railroad Company for the purchase of a large tract of Utah lands, known as the Promontory range, comprising 200,000 acres, but having failed to comply with the terms of the contract, the company had cancelled the same. Complaints were made that large profits in these transactions had been realized by Tarpey, which he has retained, and not accounted for. The Court directed that the case be referred to a referee for an accounting, the Court reserving its decision on other questions, when the referee's report is made.

$20,000 for Sullivan and Jackson.

Special to the JOURNAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—At a meeting to-night of the Directors of the California Athletic Club, an informal decision was reached to match Sullivan and Jackson for a purse of $20,000. No decision was reached as regards the time the fight will take place, but the general opinion seemed to be in four or five months. The proposition will probably be brought up before the club to-morrow night for ratification or rejection.

A Northern Pacific Wreck.

Special to the JOURNAL.

TACOMA, April 21.—The overland train from the East to-day was six hours late, being delayed by a wreck of a freight train near Clelap. The train was torn up and three or four cars were tumbled into the Yakima river. The passenger train had to wait nearly six hours for the wreck to be cleared up and the track relaid. Nobody hurt in the wreck.

NEW ORLEANS, April 21.—A gale has driven the Gulf water into Lake Pontchartrain to such an extent that the tide water has covered the shell roads leading to Spanish Fort and West End, and also submerged the sparsely settled sections of the northern and eastern suburbs of this city.

AN INTERESTING WAR.

Castle Garden a Bone of Contention Between the Government and New York Authorities.

Special to the JOURNAL.

NEW YORK, April 21.—The Commissioners of Immigration and the United States authorities have not yet come to an understanding about Castle Garden, and the fate of that famous depot for European emigrants is therefore uncertain. Some time ago the Federal authorities served notice on the Commissioners of Immigration that the contract under which the immigration business has heretofore been conducted, and which expired to-day, would not be renewed. The immigrants who reached here to-day were received at Castle Garden and at the barge office. It is rumored that the Commissioners of Immigration will invoke State laws to compel transatlantic steamship companies to land immigrants at Castle Garden, and thus thwart the Government. The fight, if seriously undertaken, will be a very pretty one, as the Secretary of the Treasury has a right not to let immigrants land until they have been inspected by his delegated officers. If he should decline to assign officers for this duty, then the immigrants should have to remain on board the steamships and return to the countries which they had left. The steamship companies, who would be seriously crippled if the war were to last any time, are trying to effect a compromise.

A Corporation's Affairs.

Special to the JOURNAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—A meeting of the stockholders of the California Iron and Steel Company was held this afternoon for the purpose of obtaining a vote of the stockholders authorizing the Board of Directors to create a bonded indebtedness of $100,000 in bonds to be used in settling debts and liabilities, and to be secured by mortgage upon all the real estate of the company. The resolution authorizing such a course was adopted. The old bondholders will get $72,000, they relinquishing the original issue of $150,000, with accrued interest, and paying all back taxes, and a note of $51,000 which was sued for by the First National Bank. The balance of the issue, amounting to about $18,000, will clear up all outstanding indebtedness and leave the property which is valued at about $350,000, free. This ends several years of litigation.

Justice Must be Satisfied.

Special to the JOURNAL.

WHEATLAND, April 21.—Detective Bradshaw, of Iowa, arrested this evening Aaron Smith, of Des Moines, Iowa, on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Smith owned a few head of stock in Des Moines, and on the day before leaving sold the stock to four different parties, taking their notes for the same. He realized $1,100 dollars, with which he and his family came to California, where he lost all the money in gambling. A sick wife and four little children are left destitute and a petition is in circulation to raise money to care for them. Bradshaw starts for Iowa with his prisoner to-night.

A Joint Resolution Directing the Purchase of the Maximum Amount of Bullion.

Special to the JOURNAL.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—In the House to-day Dorsey, of Nebraska, introduced a joint resolution that the Secretary of the Treasury be directed to increase the treasury purchase of silver bullion to the maximum amount authorized by the Act "to authorize the coinage of standard silver dollars and to restore its legal tender character," which was passed over the veto of the President and became a law on February 28, 1878. Referred.

"The Chinese Must Go."

Special to the JOURNAL.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Secretary Windom to-day sent to the Senate a letter in response to the Senate Chinese resolution, stating that no Chinese who entered the United States for transit have failed to depart, and that so far but a very small number, not more than 100 Chinese persons, probably, have availed themselves of the privileges prescribed in the regulations of September, 1889.

The Union Pacific Report.

Special to the JOURNAL.

BOSTON, April 21.—The annual report of the Union Pacific railroad was issued to-day. The only change made in the directory was the election of a successor to the late David Dowd. It is stated that there is no truth in the report of the organization of a syndicate to purchase the Government interest in the Union Pacific.

Wilkes Booth's Mistress Says He Is Alive.

Special to the JOURNAL.

CHICAGO, April 21.—A special from Birmingham, Alabama, says that Louise Worcester, the mistress and confidant of J. Wilkes Booth, the assassin of President Lincoln, is not dead, and that she received a letter from him two years after his alleged death.

Sarah and Her Plays.

Special to the JOURNAL.

PARIS, April 21.—Sarah Bernhardt opens in "Cleopatra" to-morrow night at the Porte St. Martin. She claims that she has secured permission to produce the P. sion play in Paris, but admits she finds much difficulty in getting a theater in which to present it.

A Celebrated Case Dismissed.

Special to the JOURNAL.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The celebrated pan-electric case of Rodgers against ex-Attorney General Garland and others was dismissed to-day, each party to pay his own costs.

A REGIMENTAL MAGPIE.

His Antics Would Upset Almost Everything in the Army Camp.

He was only a magpie, but such a magpie! At first he belonged to a private in a regiment out on the alkali plains of Nevada. Then the company adopted him as its own, and finally from the proprietorship of Company B, he became the regimental magpie, only, instead of the regiment owning him, he owned the regiment. There never was a sicker, more self-satisfied beast, and mischief and antics without end were on his programme. He could whistle; he could dance; he could mock anything that sings, and imitate anything that walks; a magpie, you know, doesn't hop, it walks, like a crow or blackbird. On dress parades would turn out with the regiment, and follow the officer of the day up and down the line with the most dignified strut imaginable. The soldiers could hardly keep straight faces when the bird would scold the colonel as he gave his orders.

Billy—that was his name—would occasionally steal, and only close and constant watching would reveal his hiding places. Sometimes he would succeed in catching his thefts for two or three months before detection followed. Then a couple of quarts of coins, currency, stamps, buttons, pipes, tobacco, cigars, straps, thread, forks, spoons and small trifles would be unearthed. If he caught any one spying upon him he would be as crafty as a fox, and put up all sorts of dodges to throw the detective off the track. He would make false leads, fly off a mile in the sage bush, and then sneak into the fort close to the ground, so that no one might see him.

Finally the regiment was ordered to another post. Billy went along after much protesting and scolding on his part. He knew something was up, and hustled around after his various treasures, which he brought in from every quarter and dumped in a heap in one of the quartermaster's wagons. Some things were recovered which had been missing for over a year. When the troops marched Billy flew alongside, with numerous private excursions and picnic parties all by himself off into the surrounding country. He was always on hand at meal times and at night.

At San Francisco a ship was taken for Portland, Ore., and Billy came, too. He didn't like it much, and made several trips back and forth between ship and dry land. Chinatown seemed to strike his fancy, but he finally concluded to hold fast to his old friends.

His career came near terminating the second day out. The window of the captain's state room was down and Billy perched on the ledge. He watched the captain picking out the ship's course on the chart and making calculations and entries. After a while the captain walked out and Billy flew in. Everything was handy. He took the ink bottle and took a swallow. It didn't suit his stomach as well as it did his complexion, and he proceeded to wipe his face on the chart. The nibs of his bill made a very good pen and drew beautiful lines, so he tried it with another mouthful. Beautiful! The chart looked finer than before. He dropped a whole mouthful on the chart and walked in it. Then he walked over the tablecloth and the white counterpane of the captain's berth, and wound up by tipping the ink over, wiping his mouth out with a piece of the log book, and dying off with a pair of silver dividers.

When the captain came in there was blue lightning. The tell tale tracks betrayed the culprit. The captain grabbed down a loaded shotgun from his closet over the door, and started on deck swearing that he would kill the magpie on sight. When the soldiers heard his threats fifty of them grabbed their rifles, and threatened to shoot the captain if he harmed Billy. There was danger of mutiny right there, and the officers had sense enough to see it. They pacified the infuriated mariner, and Billy escaped. His end was untimely. Some months later he got to fooling with the mechanism of a breech loading field piece, and the lever fell down on him and smashed his inquisitive head in.—Washington Post.

A Dog Hires a Cab.

Some one, writing to an English paper, tells this story of a clever dog: "You know how much I rush about in hansom cabs," said the narrator, "and Scott, my collie dog, always goes with me. We travel many miles on a occasion I was walking and missed him. Scott was in vain. The crowd was great; traffic drowned the sound of my whistle, and, after waiting a while and looking elsewhere, I returned to my suburban home without my companion, sorrowful, yet hoping that he might find his way back. In about two hours after my arrival a hansom cab drove up to the door and out jumped Scott. The cabman rang for his fare, and thinking he had somehow captured the runaway, I inquired how and where he found him. "Oh, sir," said the cabbie, "I didn't hail him at all; he hailed me. I was standing close by St. James church, a-looking out for a fare, when in jumps the dog. Like his impudence," says I, "so I shouted through the window, but he wouldn't stir. So I gets down and tries to pull him out, and shows him my whip, but he sits still and barks, as much as to say, 'Go on, old man!' As I seized him by the collar I read his name and address. 'All right, my fine gentleman,' says I, 'I'll drive you where you're wanted, I dare say.' So I shut the door, and my gentleman settles himself with his head just at this here gate, when out jumps my passenger, a-clearing the door, and walks in as calm as though he'd been a regular fare."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Tricks of Showmen.

Franks for museums are now made to order. Give me an hour's time and I can rig up an electric man for any person in the city. All that is necessary is to fasten two large brass or iron plates to the floor and attach them to an electric battery. Any person will answer for the man, providing he stands on one of the plates and allows everybody that steps on the other plate to shake hands with him, thus completing the circuit. Slate writing in theatres is done with the aid of a confederate or two in the audience. The message is written on one side of the slate, which is carefully covered with a piece of clean, dry black rubber looking like slate, which fits very closely and protecting the writing from the damp rag which is passed over it to make the audience think that no writing exists.

The performer then steps into the auditorium and asks somebody to suggest a sentence. The confederate is the first to respond, and his question is chosen. An answer to this is, of course, written on the slate already and carefully fastened to the frame sides of the slate with cord, and the performer then takes the whole affair on the stage and unfasts the board, being careful to remove the rubber at the same time, thus allowing the people to see the writing. All other tricks are just as simple, but on account of their simplicity nobody can easily catch on to the way they are executed.—Showman in St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Not Down on the Bills.

An unusually stirring scene marked the close of the run of the "Shenandoah" at the Twenty-third street theatre, New York, last Saturday night. The house was elaborately decorated and Generals Sherman and Schofield occupied boxes. At the close of the third act a small regiment of volunteers from the Brooklyn Navy Yard and the local militia joined the band and members of the company on the stage, and all formed one grand chorus, singing "Marching Through Georgia." The refrain was taken up by the audience and General Sherman kept time by waving his handkerchief. At the end of the song General Sherman was called upon for a speech. He responded briefly and was greeted with tremendous enthusiasm.

Patronize Home.

The following from the Chico Enterprise should be considered by Reno people: "At this season of the year the city drummers come around soliciting orders for goods. We would again caution our citizens against patronizing these traveling solicitors. We have mechanics of our own residing here with their families, and who contribute to our town's population and business, and every order given to parties from abroad is just so much money taken from the circulating medium of our town. We are strongly impressed with the patronize-home principle, and if the citizens of Chico would earnestly consider this matter there would be more money in circulation to-day than there is."

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine which can truly be said to "One Hundred Doses One Dollar." Medicines require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's. Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered."

Peculiar in its "goodname" at home,—there is now a more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where more than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly. Do not be induced to buy other preparations, but be sure to get the Peculiar Medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla.

THE MOST LOVELY PORTION OF RENO.

Facing the Truckee—The Aristocratic Avenue—Riverside Driveway—Splendid Sewerage—Healthy Location and Safe From Fire.

The proprietor is now ready to receive proposals for lots in Powning's Addition. The map gives a good idea of the tract, which is situated between the Central Pacific Railroad and the Truckee River, and commences on the west at a point three blocks distant from Virginia Street, making it the most central and convenient of any portion of the rapidly growing town of Reno. Unlike any other part of the town this Addition faces the beautiful Truckee River and Riverside Avenue is certain to become the fashionable driveway of the country. The streets are 80 feet wide, while Riverside and Keystone Avenues are intended to be 100 feet in width. All alleys are 20 feet wide. The soil is a rich gravelly loam, and susceptible of the highest state of cultivation. Being situated as it is it is more safe from fire than any other section. The regular lots are 50x140 feet. The sewerage is perfect.

Before Buying Elsewhere Parties will do Well to Look at These Lots.

RENO

Reno's geographical position is excellent. It is on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad, only 154 miles from Sacramento, and 244 miles from San Francisco. It is the terminus of the Virginia and Truckee Railroad running south, and of the Nevada and California Railroad running north. It has two Flouring Mills, Planing Mills, three Nurseries, a Soap Factory, Reduction Works, and other industries. A great Woolen Mill and a Sash, Door, Blind and Box Factory, are about to be established.

Reno has the Bank of Nevada with $300,000 capital, and the First National Bank with $200,000 capital. It has two fine papers in the DAILY and WEEKLY NEVADA STATE JOURNAL and the Daily and Weekly Gazette.

Reno is the natural home of the Alfalfa, and therefore the great cattle headquarters of the State. Here are fed the prime beef for the California market. Reno potatoes are the best in the world, and she also excels in Strawberries and the small fruits. Reno Wheat took the first prize at the great New Orleans Exposition.

Facilities for irrigating surpass any in the State and there is no failure of crops. Reno has Churches of all denominations, Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls, Mt. St. Mary's Academy, the State University, and splendid Public Schools.
